Bon Jovi Sells Love At NJ's Chalet Sound

Gorky Park, the first rock 'n' roll band from the Soviet Union to record in the United States, lived and worked at Chalet Sound for two weeks, making good use of the studio's comfortable sleeping accommodations.

Skid Row, recently signed to Atlantic, were in working on demo cuts with producer Michael Wagner whose credits include White Lion and Dokken.

The Village People are back and currently in at Chalet recording a new album with writers and producers Richard and Michael Berardi.

Studio Update

Chalet Sound has opened a second world-class recording facility which was previewed by the NJ/NY music world during Chalet's grand opening affair in October. Hundreds of music people turned out to tour Chalet's top-line studios, grounds and quarters which are all situated on five acres in the scenic Jersey shore area.

Co-owners, Richard and Michael Berardi have been in the music business from the 1970's to the present. Former staff writers and producers for CBS Songs, Richard and Michael have either written or published songs for Alabama, Greg Allman, Melissa Manchester, Billy Preston and many other artists. As a result of their past experience, Michael, Richard and their team of dedicated professionals...
